Group Description - "Papers of Charles W. Taussig, 1928-1948."

Group No. 26.

PAPERS OF CHARLES W. TAUSSIG, 1928-1948.

These records (168 boxes, 27 vols.: 54 cu. ft., with indexes and outlines) consist of correspondence, memorandas, reports, newspaper clippings, and other papers of Charles W. Taussig, New York City industrialist, and relate primarily to his public career as economic adviser in the administrations of Franklin D. Roosevelt, 1933-45, and the first administration of Harry S. Truman. From the early days of the "New Deal" until his death on May 9, 1948, he occupied important posts in the domestic and foreign fields of government. He was one of the six original members of the "brain trust", chairman of the National Advisory Committee of the National Youth Administration, a member of the President's Council for the Virgin Islands, chairman of the U.S. Commission to study Social and Economic Conditions in the British West Indies, co-chairman of the Anglo-American Commission (known after 1945 as the Caribbean Commission), and chairman of the U.S. Section of the Caribbean Commission from January 1946 until May 9, 1948. In 1945 President Roosevelt appointed him to the U.S. delegation to the United Nations Conference on International Organization which convened in San Francisco on April 25, 1945. During the first administration of President Truman he continued to act as economic adviser on matters affecting the Caribbean area. Most of the papers in this group cover the activities described above and at the same time document important national developments in the internal and external affairs of the United States during the years between 1932 and 1948. There are, however, other papers in this group which relate to his private interests especially his business affairs as President of the American Molasses Company and its several subsidiaries and his collector's interests in arts and literature. The materials are organized to correspond with his major interests in and out of government as follows:

(A.) "Youth Files" includes correspondence and related papers pertaining to Mr. Taussig's work as chairman of the President's Advisory Committee and the broader aspects of the NYA in the operation of the national, state, and local programs; papers relating to non-governmental youth movements and organizations such as the Affiliated Young Democrats, the American Student Union, the American Youth Congress, and the World Youth Congress; papers relating to the White House Conference(s) on Children in a Democracy in which Mr. Taussig played an important part; memoranda of conversations held with F. D. R. and other public and private persons who were actively interested in youth problems; reports received from NYA officials and from other sources on youth needs, youth projects, and youth movements, various copies and drafts of Mr. Taussig's speeches, radio broadcasts, and published articles; and miscellaneous printed materials consisting of press releases, reports, and publications of youth organizations, 1934-44. Arranged alphabetically by subject. 25 boxes. 1 bound volume.

(B.) "General Files" includes correspondence and other papers diversified in subject and type. Included is political correspondence relating to New York State and national politics (1933-44) and correspondence relating to the national campaign of 1944; correspondence relating to the World Economic Conference (1933) to which Taussig was technical adviser to the U.S. delegation; confidential reports from the American Embassy in Berlin on German Labor Camps; correspondence with prominent leaders in the "New Deal" such as Adolph Berle, Jr., Jerome Frank, Raymond Moley, and Rexford Guy Tugwell; drafts and texts of speech material prepared by Mr. Taussig for F. D. R. in the campaign of 1932; drafts of magazine articles and other writings together with correspondence with publishers; papers relating to his collector's interests in prints, etchings, and works of history on the early rum trade in colonial America; correspondence and related papers pertaining to membership in organizations including Americans for Democratic Action, the Foreign Policy Association, National Institute of Public Affairs, National Planning Commission, and Town Hall; copies of speeches and radio addresses made by Mr. Taussig on the subjects of the depression, "New Deal", recovery, and world trade; and correspondence with officials in the Departments of Agriculture, Commerce and Interior, especially on topics arising from the decline in world sugar prices and the revival of agriculture, trade and industry in the United States and its Caribbean possessions. 1932-48. Arranged alphabetically by subject with sub-topical divisions. 17 boxes.

(C.) "Caribbean Files" contains materials relating to the various commissions appointed by the United States, Great Britain, France and the Netherlands to study and make recommendations for the reform of economic, social, and political conditions in the West Indies. Included is correspondence with government officials in the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico including important exchanges with Paul M. Pearson (1933-35) and Laurence Cramer (1935-41) Governors of the Islands and with Rexford Guy Tugwell, Governor of Puerto Rico (1941-46); correspondence with F. D. R., Cordell Hull, and British colonial and home officials in regard to the organization, operation and recommendations of the various Caribbean Commissions and Councils; extensive correspondence with Sir Frank Stockdale, co-chairman of the Anglo-American Caribbean Commission and chairman of the British Section of the Caribbean Commission, on both official and personal matters; about 100 photostats of selected historical documents relating to the formation and work of the Anglo-American Commission and the Caribbean Commission (and out-growth of the Anglo-American Commission and expanded to include France and the Netherlands) and these include, among other documents, communications to and from President Roosevelt, Winston Churchill, Adolph Berle, Jr., Cordell Hull, Sir Frank Stockdale, Sumner Welles, and other U. S. and foreign officials as well as records of some interesting conversations held with

Anthony Eden, Lord Halifax, Cordell Hull, and Sumner Welles; and a quantity of miscellaneous official and personal correspondence relating chiefly to personnel, social matters, and routine business connected with administrative matters. Other important documents in this file are reports of the various commissions and councils made to F. D. R. and the Department of State, among these is a report of the U. S. Commission to Study Social and Economic Conditions of the British West Indies (179 p. typescript) 1940 and a report of his trip to London made in 1942 to consult with British officials on the formation of the Anglo-American Caribbean Commission; a memorandum of conversations with F. D. R. on Caribbean problems in 1944; and papers relating to Caribbean problems generally and including correspondence with Jefferson Caffrey, Laurence Duggan, Sumner Welles, and other Department of State officials, particularly on Cuban problems relating to sugar quotas, banking, reciprocal tariff agreements, and internal political disturbances. Additional papers located in this file are press releases by the Caribbean Office in the Department of State; reports and minutes of meetings of successive West Indies Conferences held between 1942 and 1948; biographical sketches of Mr. Taussig; and other papers. Arranged alphabetically by subjects with sub-topical divisions. 22 boxes.

(D.) A file of documents relating to the United Nations Conference on International Organization. Included are photostatic copies of original documents (most of the original documents are probably on file in the Archives of the Department of State) and consisting primarily of correspondence with President Harry S. Truman, Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Secretary of the Interior, Harold Ickes, and other executive heads in regard to U. S. policy on the question of Trusteeship for Dependent Areas; draft reports on Trusteeship sent to President Truman; and records of conversations held with other U.S. and foreign delegates and advisers. Printed materials compose the bulk of materials in this file and include the final and preliminary drafts of the U. S. delegates on proposals that were to go before the committees; precis of committee proceedings; report of committees and commissions; background materials for Trusteeship over Dependent Areas; Minutes of Meetings of Commission 2 (Trusteeship System); Summary Reports of the Meeting of Commission 3 (Security Council); cumulative lists of committees and members of committees, and other publications, reports, and digests regarding the Dumbarton Oaks Proposals and Trusteeship system. 1944-45. Generally arranged by Commission and Committee and thereunder chronologically. 23 boxes. 4 volumes.

(E.) A number of small files containing materials which are very similar to the papers in the main files which have been described above. Included are: (1) copies of speeches made by Mr. Taussig and other persons in the government service as well as copies of his radio addresses and published articles, 1932-44 (these are duplicates; other copies are located in the "General Files") 1 box; (2) a working draft of his novel, Rum, Romance, and Rebellion, published in 1928 (various other drafts plus correspondence are located in the "General Files") 1 box; (3) a file of personal correspondence which is concerned with his club affiliations, his membership in community organizations, and miscellaneous social engagements, but containing also a printed report of the Army Pearl Harbor Board and a report by the Navy Court of Inquiry on the disaster at Pearl Harbor, 2 boxes; (4) reports of the International Labor Conference held in Montreal in 1944, 1 box; and (5) outlines and lists prepared by Mr. Taussig giving locations, descriptions, and abstracts of materials in the files.

(F.) Diary and Appointment books kept by Mr. Taussig and his secretary containing a day by day record of engagements and notes of his activities for the period beginning December 9, 1936 and ending on May 9, 1948. 15 vols. in one box.

(G.) An extensive file of newspaper clippings (loose and mounted) constitute the remainder of the materials. Items represented in the collection are from newspapers in the United States, the Caribbean Republics and Dependencies, and the press of Great Britain and Canada. Some are in French and Dutch. They are arranged in 3 major sub-groups which have a correlative relationship with the major activities of his public life in (1) the posts he occupied as economic adviser in the "brain trust" and as chairman of the National Advisory Committee of the National Youth Administration, (2) the various offices he held in matters relating to the Caribbean, and (3) the United Nations Conference on International Organization which met in San Francisco. The news items and editorials carry much information on the background of the Caribbean colonial policies as well as the national objectives of the people in the various Republics and Dependencies for improved social and economic conditions. Also the clippings contain items on personalities and events which are of general reference value for the period of the "New Deal" and the war years.
